Monona Grove senior forward Sabastian Xiong has committed to play men's soccer at UW-Green Bay on a partial scholarship.

Xiong had 38 goals — nine game-winners — and 10 assists for 86 points in his four-year career for the Silver Eagles, and was an All-Southern Badger Conference selection each of the past two seasons.

As a senior last fall, he had a career bests of 17 goals and 36 points for MG.

He'll be the latest member of his family to play college soccer: His older brother, Simeon, played at NCAA Division II Delta State in Mississippi in 2006-07, and their cousin,

Peter Xiong

, plays for Division III Marian College in his native Fond du Lac after starting his college career at Delta State with Simeon.

At Green Bay, Xiong will be teammates again with former MG goalkeeper Travis Meikle, who redshirted as a freshman for the Phoenix last fall.

And Sabastian Xiong reports that Simeon, who attends Bellin College of Nursing in Green Bay, is considering transferring to UWGB and trying out for the soccer team — he has two years of eligibility remaining.
